

A Grace for Vergers

Gracious God, We gather together this evening in fellowship as your Church – that wonderful and sacred mystery for which we are so grateful. Grateful, too, are we for your Holy Scripture, steadfast tradition, and faithful reason; for music and majesty; lyrics and liturgy; and for those who lead us in worship – your vergers. Guide them, O Lord, as they guide us. Comfort them in their daily needs. Fill them with the knowledge of your constant love as they hear you say, “Well done, good and faithful servants.” Thank you, too, for this food, for the hands which have grown it and prepared it, and for your provision, through us, for those who have little or none. In the name of Jesus Christ we pray. Amen.

The Reverend Gwendolyn W. Tobias

Director of Worship, Washington National Cathedral
Vergers dinner
Saturday, October 9th, 2010
Maggiano's Little Italy restaurant, Washington DC